Tutoring Experience

Over the past 12 years, I've worked with international students across Europe, Asia, and the UK, helping them master the core concepts of Psychology. I've supported A-Level learners in preparing for exams and essays while guiding IB students through Internal Assessments and Extended Essays with a focus on achieving top results.

In addition to tutoring, I've delivered revision workshops and mock assessments to Psychology students. My background in Organisational Psychology has allowed me to mentor students pursuing careers in social sciences, counselling, and related fields. I take pride in my students consistently achieving outstanding grades and gaining placements at top universities.
